HUDSPETH GETS HIGHER OFFICE

Appointed Division Superintendent of Southern Railway to Succeed Pierce.

SERVED COMPANY 35 YEARS

Boisseau Advanced From Chief Dispatcher to Division Trainmaster.

Following its usual custom of promoting men in the service, the Southern Railway Company yesterday announced the appointment of J. M. Hudspeth, trainmaster of the Richmond division, as division superintendent to succeed W. L. Pierce, who died two weeks ago. While the circular has not yet been issued the changes were effective yesterday. Mr. Hudspeth taking charge of the division offices at noon. He has been with the Southern for the past thirty-five years, having worked practically all of that time on the local division. For the past eight years he has been trainmaster. News of his appointment was received with the utmost gratification, and the new superintendent was highly complimented by his associates when the fact of his promotion became generally known around division headquarters.

F. H. Boisseau, heretofore train dispatcher, was appointed trainmaster to succeed Mr. Hudspeth, while J. W. Rector was advanced to the position of chief dispatcher. Mr. S. Massey is advanced from operator to dispatcher, all of these changes taking effect yesterday.

"The Southern Railway seldom fails to promote its people when vacancies occur," said an official yesterday, "and it is this custom which creates such good feeling all along the system. It is worth something to a man to know that he will go higher if he does the right kind of work. Almost every railroad man in this country, for that matter, has worked his way up from the bottom, and not a single official is ashamed of his humble start."

WILL WORK IN CAMP

Major Bowles Plans Practical Tactics at Basic City.

Field work which cannot be practiced in the army will be almost the exclusive task of the Richmond Blues in the coming campaign at Basic City, according to Major E. W. Bowles. He proposes to have a great deal of open order drill, and will put into practice the instruction given to officers during the past months in map reading and drawing.

Dr. Mosley said last night that he expects to take the men out on a hike one afternoon in heavy marching order, spending the night in shelter tents and returning to Basic City the next morning.

No furloughs have been granted as yet, covering the camp period, and Major Bowles has been to the extent of a willingness to act favorably on any one of the score or so requests before him.

Building Permits.

Building and repair permits were issued yesterday as follows:

Edwin P. Coker, to repair a frame dwelling, 1723 Buchanan Street, Washington Ward, to cost $150.
S. G. Meredith, to repair two brick tenents and to erect a new addition, 100-102 East Leigh Street, to cost $100.

Richmond Stove Company, to repair a rock factory on the south side of Main Street, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Streets, to cost $2,500.
Mrs. Landon B. Edwards, to repair a house, 106 West Grace Street, to cost $175.

Gas Explosion.

A street roller passing over a manhole at Twenty-eighth and Main Streets yesterday morning caused a gas explosion, and there was a shower of bricks and cobblestones. Though people were passing to and fro at the time, no one was hurt.

CITY GIVES FUND FOR CONVENTIONS

Appropriates $2,500 for Waterways Meeting and $1,000 for National Jewelers.

At a meeting of the Committee on Advertising the Resources of the City last night an appropriation of $2,500 was set apart for the Atlantic Deepwater Waterways Association, which will meet in Richmond the third week of October. Business Manager Danby, of the Chamber of Commerce, and a number of members of Richmond's delegation to last year's meeting at Providence, R. I., told of the objects of the conference, and a letter was read from the secretary, stating that it was a working body, which had little time for social features. The city appropriation, therefore, is not for entertainment, but for the general expenses of the association, which has for its object the building of an inland waterway between the cities on the Atlantic coast.

An appropriation of $1,000 was made to enter the National Jewelers' Association, which meets in Richmond August 1-4, the jewelers of the city having contributed an equal amount.

SENATORS ARE NOW PARTY NOMINEES

Folkes and Harman Declared Democratic Candidates for Re-Election.

SAUNDERS IS ON COMMITTEE

Clay Ward Man Is Unopposed. Two New Men for House of Delegates.

Official declaration was made at noon yesterday by City Chairman Allen M. Smith that E. C. Folkes and Arthur C. Harman are the Democratic nominees for the State Senate from the Thirty-eighth District, which is the city of Richmond, and that E. M. Rowell is the Democratic nominee for the office of clerk of the Circuit Court of the city of Richmond.

These candidates developed no opposition up to the hour for closing the lists. They will not go into the primary, and are now the accredited party nominees, which is equivalent to an election.

Both the State senatorial candidates are the incumbents. Both have long records in the halls of the General Assembly, and their renomination without a shadow of opposition is taken by themselves and their friends as an endorsement of their work and as a personal compliment which they appreciate.

City Committee Named.

In all the wards of the city save one the result was the same as in the race for the State Senate. In Marshall Ward alone is there opposition in the primary of September 7, and the City Committee declared the aspirants in all the remaining wards as the choice of the party for membership on the committee for the next two years. One of these is Clyde W. Saunders, the leading political worker from Clay Ward.

Two additional candidates for the House of Delegates appeared, filling the names and notices, and will be on the ticket in the September primary. This makes ten candidates for the five places to be filled, and means a spirited fight. Already the wise ones are calculating on the probable winners and on the probable real race which will develop.

Two From Southside.

The two new men are M. A. Campbell, of Washington Ward, and L. W. Throckmorton, of Marshall Ward. There are now two candidates from the Southside, since it has been decided that the coming campaign will be fought in the city of Richmond instead of in the old legislative district, which included the counties of Chesterfield and Powhatan. D. L. Toney, the other, is the incumbent from the former district.

No change in the list of candidates for the office of City Collector, and the candidates are Frank T. Bates, Herbert L. Hulce and George C. Ruskell.

John B. Walsh, of Marshall Ward, who has minutes late with the announcement of his candidacy for the City Committee, and lost his chance for service on that body.

Following is the full list of candidates for the committee, showing no opposition save in one instance in Marshall Ward: E. W. Saunders, Horace B. Burnett, A. W. Browning, Clyde W. Saunders and J. P. Pettus.

Lee Ward—W. M. Myers, Charles V. Carrington, Wirt E. Taylor, J. M. Blankin, and Walter G. Duke.
Madison Ward—P. L. Lennahan, Hugh M. O'Neill, Jesse A. Ladd, James E. Hart and J. M. Purcell.

Monroe Ward—R. R. Florance, Frank Ferrandini, H. N. Mason, W. A. Meredith and David Connel.
Henry Ward—Richard N. Gode, George T. Davis, R. S. Tiller, E. W. Evans, C. W. Hodges and Charles E. Mosby.

Jefferson Ward—M. T. Rogers, Earle Sibley, E. J. Fagan, E. C. Hicks and James M. Allen.

Henry Ward—W. M. Martin, James H. Price, G. T. Wolf, Samuel Steiner, and William Russell Jones.

Washington Ward—J. L. Redford, Willis C. Pulliam, R. P. Shiflett, J. A. Baber and Charles R. Fowlkes.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Olle Carter, Negro Blacksmith, Killed as Rock, Slung Through Roof, Crushed Under Five Huge Pieces of Stone.

Crushed under five huge pieces of stone which crashed through the roof of his blacksmith shop, Olle Carter, a colored man twenty-three years old, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon, when an explosion in a rock quarry, which had been set off by a shower of earth and rocks into the air.

The accident occurred about a mile and a half beyond Rio Vista, the quarry lying between the Reservoir and the Belt Line bridge. The negro was working as a laborer when the shower of stone fell upon him through the roof, which was divided without a plank being broken. His head was crushed in, and his body was mangled into a pulp. When quarrymen found him, his body, doubled up, was lying in a tub near the forge. He lived a few minutes after being extricated. The driver of the city ambulance, rushing to the scene, but there was nothing he could do. Life was extinct when he arrived.

Acquitted in Henrico. Otis Johnson, who was acquitted by a jury in the Henrico county Circuit Court yesterday upon an indictment alleging an assault upon Oscar Richardson, two other indictments against him, including offenses against John Washington and James Grimes, were nolle prosequed.

Brought to Hospital. Dr. H. L. Atkins, of Boykins, Va., was brought to Richmond yesterday afternoon by a special train, where he will be kept until he is able to undergo an operation.

No Term Next Week. There will be no session of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals next week. Tuesday was the scheduled date for opening term, but Judge Nathan Gott will be unable to be present and it is not expected that other members of the appellate tribunal will come.

Mr. Glass at Capitol. Representative Carter Glass spent part of yesterday in the city on his way to Newport News, where he spoke last night. Mr. Glass called on some of his friends at the Capitol.

Qualifies an Executor. Miss Jean R. Stirling qualified yesterday as executrix of the will of Catherine S. Leighton. The estate is valued at $1,050.

BIDS ARE CALLED FOR ON INSTITUTE

Contractors Asked for Proposals on Confederate Memorial.

MUST BE IN BY AUGUST 7

Hoped to Begin Actual Construction Work in Coming Autumn.

All working drawings for the Confederate Memorial Institute, which will shortly be erected on the Boulevard in the West End of Richmond, having been completed by the architect, a call has been made for bids on the actual construction of the building. Sealed proposals will be received by Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Ellison, president of the Confederate Memorial Association, at his office, 924 Bruton Building, until 12 o'clock noon on Monday, August 7.

These bids are to include the entire work of construction excepting the heating and ventilating apparatus, the electric conduits and wiring, the gas piping and lighting fixtures. These matters will be the subject of separate arrangements. All bids of course, are to be strictly in accordance with the working plans and drawings arranged by the architects—Messrs. Bissell & Sinkler, of 505 Bailey Building, Philadelphia.

Get Drawings Next Week.

Copies of the drawings and specifications may be obtained by contractors from the architects on and after Saturday, July 15. Every application for drawings must be accompanied by a certified check for $500, payable to the order of the Confederate Memorial Association. Copies of the drawings furnished must be returned in good condition with the proposals, whereupon the check will be returned. Failure to return in good order, the sum of $25 will be forfeited and deducted from the check. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids which may be offered.

Within a few days after all the bids are in on August 7, the executive committee of the Confederate Memorial Association will meet with the architects, the bids will be examined and the contract awarded. The contractor will be required to furnish a bond of a surety company in the sum of 50 per cent. of the amount of the contract, guaranteeing a faithful performance of the agreement.

Design Is Dedic.

The plan for the Confederate Memorial Institute was adopted several months ago, and photographs of it have been printed. The architecture is Dedic, a dignified monumental scheme, being observed, with large pillars in front. The building is to be a repository and exhibition building for Confederate relics, paintings and sculpture, with writings and other data relating to the Confederacy. It will afford a permanent fireproof resting place for some of the most important of the South's desires to perpetuate.

It is hoped that from time to time, commemorative tablets and statues will be erected by States, societies and individuals, both inside and outside of the grounds. The building is to be a repository and exhibition building for Confederate relics, paintings and sculpture, with writings and other data relating to the Confederacy. It will afford a permanent fireproof resting place for some of the most important of the South's desires to perpetuate.

Probably a good deal of the work will be done before the coldest weather of the winter arrives, so as to have the structure complete and ready for dedication by next summer or in the autumn of 1912.

FIRST REGIMENT WILL CELEBRATE

Fiftieth Anniversary of Its First Battle to Be Recalled on July 18.

Especially commemorative of the fiftieth anniversary of the first engagement of the First Virginia Regiment in the War Between the States, will be the annual outing of the survivors of the regiment on July 18. The affair will be held at Forest Hill Park and it is hoped that every man who was under fire on July 18, 1861, will answer to the roll call on that occasion.

Invitations have been sent out by Colonel William H. Palmer, the president of the association, and by Secretary T. L. Loefer.

The First Virginia Infantry was mustered into the service of the State on April 21, 1861. Four days later it was ordered into camp for instruction, and on May 25 it left for Manassas to join the Southern Army. Four companies were sent to Fairfax County to reinforce the Wrenton Rifles on June 1. On that day Captain Marr was killed in a skirmish, marking the first bloodshed on Virginia soil.

The battle of Blackburn's Ford was fought on July 18. The First Virginia lost thirteen killed and twenty-eight wounded, but acquitted itself with distinction, driving back the Federal advance.

WESTHAMPTON PLAN KILLED BY COUNCIL

Whole Schedule Fight Ends, Service and Rates to Remain as at Present—New Bond Issue Ordinance Introduced by Pollard.

Plans for operating cars of the Westhampton line down to Ninth and Main Streets as proposed by the country Club of Virginia were finally rejected by the Common Council last night, the roll call on the ordinance granting the permission being 8 to 21.

The debate was brief. Mr. Pollock offered a minor amendment as to the transfer points, which was adopted. Mr. Umlauf made the only speech on the ordinance, opposing its passage on behalf of certain people of Clay Ward living on Floyd Avenue between Robinson Street and the city limits, who, he claimed, would be deprived of certain ticket and transfer privileges. The roll call stood:

Ayes—Messrs. Blake, Fergusson, Fuller, Huber, Lynch, Miller, Pollock, Vonderhaar—8.
Noes—Messrs. Bradley, Brown, Butler, Hadden, Hirschberg, Hobson, Jones, Mills, Pollard, Powell, J. C. Powers, J. T. Powers, Rende, Richardson, Rogers, Seaton, Selph, Sullivan, Umlauf, Whit-skire, Peters—21.

Absent—Messrs. Watkins, Boschen, Bowman, Burke, Cease, Gill, Lumsden, Ratcliffe, Richards, Saunders, Workman.

Reminded Him of Aldermen.

The Council transacted comparatively little other business, spending several hours in almost useless debate, and at times becoming so dilatory and disorderly that Vice-President Pollard remarked that it reminded him of the sessions of the Board of Aldermen, to which President Peters replied that he considered any such comparison a serious reflection on the Council. Without taking up any committee reports the Council adjourned to Monday night at 8 o'clock.

It was 8:30 when the body assembled, and only twenty-three members answered roll call—less than the required two-thirds vote. The body refused to adjourn, however, and Sergeant-at-Arms Russell was sent for absentees, bringing in Mr. Huber, Mr. Bradley and others later.

A communication from Mayor Richardson called attention to a dangerous condition at the crossing of the Seaboard Air Line tracks at Fifteenth Street, where the Mayor recommended that protective gates be installed. The paper was referred to the Committee on Streets. On roll call Mr. Hirschberg offered a general ordinance fixing a nine-hour day for city employees, more comprehensive than that recently adopted. It was referred to the Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform, as was a petition presented by Mr. Hobson for permission to erect a stable for John A. Hutcheson at Sixth and Cary Streets.

Mr. Lynch offered a joint resolution granting a leave of absence for thirty days to Police Justice Crutchfield, which was adopted under suspension of the rules.

As to the Bond Issue.

Mr. Pollard offered a resolution authorizing the Committee on Finance to make certain temporary loans which were referred to the Committee on Finance, and a new draft of the bond issue ordinance carrying the original items amounting to $1,400,000, which took the same course. Mr. Pollard explained that in view of the delay in passing the bond ordinance, it might be necessary to borrow money to meet payments on the bridge and other work authorized by the Council, for which it was contemplated that the bond issue would provide. In regard to the bond issue Mr. Pollard took the ground that whatever the result of the present controversy between the two branches, and whether or not street paving were included or not, it was desirable that the record as to the authority for the issue be clear and regular, and the action of the Board of Aldermen in adding an amendment, which the City Attorney declared illegal, having clouded the issue, Mr. Pollard thought it best to pass a new ordinance and keep the record straight, so that no question might arise as to the validity of the issue.

W. B. Walton, of Hanover, yesterday paid his assessment and filed his notice with County Chairman E. L. C. Scott, and is a candidate for the House of Delegates in opposition to Resewell Page.

Another Auto Ambulance.

The Council concurred in the action of the Board of Aldermen in appropriating $4,500 for a second automobile ambulance, and an appropriation of $55 in payment of damages for grading certain alleys abutting Monument Avenue, extended. Time for compliance with the wide-tire ordinance was extended to January 1, 1912. Without going into the reports of standing committees, the Council adjourned to Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Walton Is Candidate.

W. B. Walton, of Hanover, yesterday paid his assessment and filed his notice with County Chairman E. L. C. Scott, and is a candidate for the House of Delegates in opposition to Resewell Page.

ONCE THREATENED TO SHOOT LAWLER DENNIS MCCARTHY LET GO AT LAST

Meakin's Rough Tactics Resulted in Call for Police, but No Arrests Followed.

Unless George Frederick Meakin, who claims to have served on Lord Kitchener's staff and to have been a captain in the English army during the Boer campaign, dies, it is improbable that the police will make an arrest as the result of the mysterious shooting of Meakin in the home of M. J. Lawler, 106 1-2 East Clay Street, on Wednesday afternoon. Meakin is still in a precarious condition, the bullet having passed through his body, entering just below the heart and passing through the left lung.

Meakin persists that he was shot accidentally, that Mrs. Lawler shot him while going up the stairway to the second floor when she heard the shot. She says that she saw Meakin leaning against the hall bedroom door, and did not know at first that he was injured.

Shoved How He Shot Boers. Mrs. Lawler still persists in her story, corroborated by her thirteen-year-old son, James, Edward, that she was going up the stairway to the second floor when she heard the shot. She says that she saw Meakin leaning against the hall bedroom door, and did not know at first that he was injured.

Then he fell to the floor, and she rushed up, asking what was the matter. The boy declares that he was in the room with Meakin just before the accident, and that Meakin was showing him how he shot the Boers. The boy left the room, fearing that the gun might explode, and went into the bathroom, adjoining. Then he heard the shot, and came out to find that Meakin was wounded.

At the request of Detective Sergeant Wiley and Kellam, who have been working on the case, Mr. Lawler went to police headquarters yesterday afternoon, and a conference in which the detectives and Major Verner took part ensued. Mr. Lawler knew nothing about the details of the shooting, saying that he left the house about 11 o'clock. The shooting took place at 1:20 o'clock. Meakin stated to the detectives that so far as he knew Mr. Lawler was not in the house at the time, and except for the children, he and Mrs. Lawler were alone.

Threatened to Kill Lawler. Three weeks ago, said Mr. Lawler, Meakin came in, apparently under the influence of liquor, and began disparaging the Southern people. Mr. Lawler was having some refreshment at the time, and offered some of it to Meakin. The latter began cursing him, and after calling Mr. Lawler a villain, said that he would kill him if it were the last thing he ever did. One of the children was dispatched to call the police, and officers were sent to the house, but they were not arrested. But even after this Meakin continued to remain in the house, though having no visible means of paying for his board and room.

MAY GET IN BY SPRING

New Federal Building Will Not Be Completed This Year.

It was learned yesterday that there is little probability that the new Post Office building at Tenth and Main Streets will be completed and ready for occupancy before next spring, although the contract limit is November 25, 1911. However, delay was first caused by the government failing to turn over the entire property to the contractors at the time agreed, and now the arrival of stone further held up the work.

But rapid progress is now being made, and it is said that by September 1 practically all of the stone work will be completed.

Work on the east wing is being pushed in earnest, and the roof on that portion of the building with a view of beginning interior work as soon as possible.

MRS. KELLEY FINED

Witnesses Charge That She Conducted a Baby Farm.

On complaint of Chief Health Officer Levy and the Rev. Joseph T. M. Babin, secretary of the State Board of Charities and Corrections, Mrs. Sarah Kelley has been running a "baby farm" at 231 North Twenty-eighth Street, was fined $25 in Police Court yesterday morning.

A license, it was said, had been refused her, and the children under her care had been removed. But on June 25, an infant, James R. James, under five years of age, had been received, and the fact became known to her two witnesses appearing against her, who were permitted to pay the fine, and Justice Crutchfield trusted her for the amount of the fine.
